We're making changes to Chase College CheckingSM

On March 17, 2024, we're changing the Chase College Checking Monthly Service Fee and the ways to waive it. As a reminder, we waive the Monthly Service Fee up to the graduation date you provided us at account opening.

Once your student waiver period ends:

- The Monthly Service Fee will be $12 (up from $6), unless you have any ONE of the following during each monthly statement period:
 - An average ending day balance of $1,500 or more in this account – reduced from $5,000, OR,
 - Electronic deposits made into this account totaling $500 or more, which includes payments from payroll providers or government benefit providers, by using (i) the ACH network, (ii) the Real Time Payment or FedNowSM network, or (iii) third party services that facilitate payments to your debit card using the Visa[®] or Mastercard[®] network. We previously did not require a minimum dollar amount for electronic deposits to waive the Monthly Service Fee.
- All other account features and terms will remain the same.

We have other account options available if Chase College Checking no longer meets your needs. To learn more, visit chase.com/checking. We also encourage you to schedule a meeting with a banker at chase.com/meeting so you can discuss your current financial goals and find the account that works best for you.

If you have questions or would like a copy of the Additional Banking Services and Fees disclosure, please visit chase.com/disclosures or call us at the number on this statement. We accept operator relay calls.
